

Individual Membership

Make a difference for yourself and others.

Your membership support is key to the Center for Practical Bioethics' mission, which is to raise and respond to ethical issues in health and healthcare. We welcome your fresh ideas and thoughts about today's complex and challenging issues.

You are encouraged to grow professionally and personally by joining in rigorous, ethical dialogue, and helping to shape the practices and policies that underlie the vision of a society in which the dignity and health of all people are advanced through ethical discourse and action.

You have access to consultation and educational resources to help you stay informed so that you can make the best possible decisions in your profession and with your family in this changing healthcare environment. Our Caring Conversations® Workbook will give you new ways to think about your end-of-life wishes and becoming an advocate for someone you love.

Benefits include:

New

- Two "Members Only" invitations – discussion on current issues with leadership staff, held in the fall and spring.
- Mailed announcements to public forums – nationally known scholars, authors, policymakers, and other thought leaders.

The Robert L. Biblo Lecture – This Annual Dinner Celebration lecture has been held annually since 1992.

The Rosemary Flanigan Lecture – cosponsored by Carondelet Health in honor of Sr. Rosemary Flanigan, PhD. This annual lecture began in 1994.
- "Members Only" online discussion group – moderated by Rosemary Flanigan, PhD.
- Two free Caring Conversations Workbooks – a step-by-step workbook to guide individuals and families through practical conversations in preparations for end-of-life decisions. The workbook contains the Durable Power of Attorney and Healthcare Directive documents.
- Center Briefing – monthly e-newsletter containing Center updates and information about upcoming events.
- Ethics E.Alert – weekly summary of emerging global issues involving ethical issues in healthcare.
- Member Discount – on Center sponsored conferences and workshops.
