Organizational membership in the Center for Practical Bioethics provides crucial resources to organizations interested in preserving quality, compassionate healthcare. In addition, Center membership demonstrates an organization's commitment to a shared vision of a society in which the dignity and health of all people are advanced through ethical dialogue and action.

Membership in the Center for Practical Bioethics provides access to essential ethics education and resources, including informative programs, publications, and consultation services that can help organizations respond to complex ethical issues in healthcare.

Membership also supports the Center's national initiatives, including:

- Caring Conversations, helping individuals and their families share meaningful conversation while making practical preparations for end-of-life decisions.
- National Balanced Pain Policy, advocating for a balanced pain policy to allow patients to receive proper pain treatment
- KC4 Aging in Community, preparing today for tomorrow's aging America.
